Student notes for: "Tale of Jemima Puddleduck"

Day: 2

1. On page 9, it says, "Jemima thought him mighty civil and handsome." What does civil mean? Why is the gentleman described in this way?

2. On page 12, it says, "'This is my summer residence; you would not find my earth-my winter house- so convenient,' said the hospitable gentleman." What does hospitable mean? Why is the gentleman described in this way?

3. How do you know that Jemima believes that she "will be in nobody's way" at the gentleman's home?

4. Based on the fox's and Jemima's first interaction, what does Jemima think is the fox's motive? How do you know this?
